Downtown Moncton Centre-ville Inc. welcomes the announcement of a new downtown Justice Facility

MONCTON – Downtown Moncton Centre-ville Inc. is very pleased with the provincial government’s decision to build the new Moncton Justice Facility in a prominent downtown location at the former Beaver Lumber site.

“This new Justice Facility will make a significant contribution to the continued growth of our downtown” stated Maura McKinnon, President of DMCI. “Like Minister Keir, we also believe that the new, state-of-the-art courthouse will transform downtown Moncton and stimulate other growth and development.”

DMCI wants to reiterate its willingness to work with the provincial government to help deliver this project in a timely manner and ensure that it has a distinctive high quality environmental design, including LEED building standards, with attractive landscaping. We believe that the new Justice Facility will have a catalytic effect in attracting further development to our core and hope that it maintains a high level of visual and physical connectivity to rest of the downtown infrastructure.

As stated in the 2006 Downtown Moncton Development Vision, one high quality, high density project can turn Downtown around. This first big project could become a symbol, which is why it is so imperative to get it right.

Downtown Moncton Centre-ville Inc. hopes that this is only the first of many important infrastructure projects that will come to fruition in our beautiful downtown.
